

HIGH PRICES EAST

C. D. THOM SAYS CHARGES ALMOST DOUBLE THOSE OF WEST

Cameron D. Thom is back from the wild and wicked East and glad to get back, even if he did have to work like a horse to catch up in his business affairs. When asked about conditions in the East he said he didn't know; that when he went away he shoved everything on to the broad shoulders of his partner, B. F. Bourne, and he and his wife put their minds entirely to enjoying the journey, forgetting all about business and keeping away even from thoughts of it. He said he found out that everybody in the East knew how to get double prices out of everything they sold, whether it was California fruit or hotel accommodations. The most enjoyable part of the trip to both him and Mrs. Thom was the return by way of Niagara Falls, where they stopped for a time, then through Canada to the Pacific Coast. They were at Niagara Falls the day the fatal attempt was made by a man to go over the Horseshoe Fall in a barrel. He went over but his barrel was dashed to pieces on the rocks and the poor fellow drowned. The journey through the Canadian Rockies was notable for the wonderful scenery, while the weather was delightful.

SOLDIER TALKS

ALEX DALLAS, GASED VETERAN, AT THORNYCROFT, REVIEWS CAREER

Surrounded with the beauties of nature where sunny skies and balmy breezes unite their efforts with those of man, the "returned boys of the army" at Thornycroft are slowly being won back to health. Under a shady arbor in a corner of this six-acre tropical maze "where every prospect pleases" we found one of these boys in the person of Alexander Dallas. Des Moines was his birthplace, and the date of his enlistment in the army was given as February 10, 1917. From that date up to April, 1919, his course led through eight countries of changeable scenery.

He was first sent to Fort Logan, Colorado, then to Angel Island, California; and from there to Scofield Barracks, Honolulu. From that point he was sent back to San Francisco where, on account of ill health, he was discharged and sent to Denver, Colorado, to recuperate. Nothing daunted by his discharge, he went to Toronto, Canada, where he

FOREIGN TREES

MANY NATIVES OF TROPICAL AND TEMPERATE ZONES GROW HERE

Naturalization papers are being taken out in Glendale by many rare plants, shrubs and trees of foreign birth, which are rapidly becoming acclimated to their new surroundings.

An observation trip through the park-like nursery of F. McG. Kelley with the proprietor as guide, revealed many of these naturalized plant citizens standing side by side with native-born greenery, all busily engaged in the manufacture of leaf, flower and fruit.

Here for instance is the carob tree or St. John's bread, which grows extensively in the south of Europe producing a fruit known as the carob bean, an important article of commerce. It is chiefly used for cattle feed but is also used by the poor when grain is scarce. It is generally considered the locust tree of scripture of which John the Baptist ate with honey as a relish. It is also supposed that the shells of the carob bean are the husks of which the prodigal son desired to partake.

Next we observe the New Zealand flax, this particular variety being the tenax variegata which has stiff, sword-shaped variegated leaves, and

BIG REALTY DEAL

BUSINESS HOUSES FROM 104 TO 126 NORTH BRAND, INCLUSIVE, SOLD

A big realty deal that has been on for the past month but not yet fully consummated, though a large payment down has been made is the sale by Mr. Engert of the building occupied by the boulevard branch of the Bank of Glendale and all the other buildings north of it on Brand to and including those occupied by the postoffice. The buyers are Mr. Huff of Los Angeles and Mr. Bishop of Riverside and the consideration somewhere near $90,000.

A sale of this same realty was pending nearly a year ago when a syndicate of Glendale business men sought to acquire it, but the deal fell through, for some cause.

Very few cities the size of Glendale are accorded the distinction of a resident secretary by this largest automobile club in the world.

W. S. HARTLEY DISABLED IN QUEER ACCIDENT

W. S. Hartley of 555 Oak street has been "laying off" from carpenter work for the past three weeks on account of a peculiar and painful accident. He was helping to move some lumber and was standing up on the truck holding a part of the load in place, when, in going under a wire his right hand was caught and the ligaments holding his thumb to the first joint torn loose, though the skin was not broken. The hand has been useless and very painful ever since, but is healing, though slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jensen and Mr. and Mrs. Foy spent the weekend at Catalina. They had a very enjoyable time, catching a good many fish.

REDS AT THE GATES OF WARSAW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 4.—Bolshevik troops have crossed the river Bug, the last natural line of defense before Warsaw according to official Polish dispatches received here. Preparations for a desperate defense of Warsaw are being made. Women and foreigners are being hurried out of the city. A hostile attitude toward the Russian Commercial delegates developed today. It is expected that the delegates will be ordered to return to Russia and the commercial blockade resumed.

ZURICH, August 4.—Wireless reports from Moscow stated that a Polish revolutionary committee is being formed which issued a manifesto to workers urging them to depose the Bourgeois government.

PARIS, August 4.—Advices to the foreign office today indicated that the evacuation of Warsaw is momentarily expected.

LONDON, August 4.—Premier Lloyd George today warned Keminoff, Russian Trade Commissioner, that Britain will break off negotiations looking toward the recognition of the Russian Soviet government unless the Bolshevik offensive is halted.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLANS WORLD SURVEY

TAKES FIRST STEP TO END WAR BY CUTTING DOWN ARMAMENTS—PLANS FOR FUTURE WORK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, August 4.—The League of Nations today took its first step here to put an end to war with the formation of plans for a world survey of armaments with a view of cutting down all armaments. The committee named three secretaries, a Britain to handle naval affairs, a Frenchman to handle military matters and an Italian for aerial matters. After the world survey is completed maximum armaments limits will be fixed and surplus war material destroyed.

The council formulated the following plans yesterday: The organization of an international health board to fight disease; plans to blockade any nation refusing to obey the League's rulings; the formation of a committee on international statistics and the establishment of an international university.

SENORA CANTU IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, August 4.—Senora Cantu, wife of the Governor of Lower California has arrived here with her three children and is in hiding according to Eduardo Ruiz, Mexican consul here. ## YAMATO WRECKED WITH LOSS OF CREW

MYSTERY OF JAPANESE BODIES FOUND FLOATING IN SAN DIEGO BAY BELIEVED SOLVED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, August 4.—Mystery surrounding the finding of bodies of Japanese in San Diego bay was believed solved today with the identification of one of the bodies as S. Tami, a member of the crew of the Japanese fishing vessel, Yamato, which has been missing since July 9.

SAN DIEGO, August 4.—The wreckage of a vessel floating in the bay has led the police to believe that the Yamato, a Japanese fishing vessel from San Pedro, was wrecked with the death of all on board. It is believed that the destruction of the Yamato was the result of a feud between Japanese fishermen. The vessel was evidently blown up and the crew murdered the police say.

INDICT CHICAGO YARDMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, August 4.—The federal grand jury today indicted forty-one members of the Chicago Yardmen's Association for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The indictments were an outgrowth of the outlaw railroad strike.

BOY DROWNED

RUSSELL ARTHUR MECK LOSES LIFE IN DURAN'S POOL

Mrs. Roxye Weston, manager of the Glendale Stables, accompanied two lads to Duran's swimming pool on North Glendale avenue near the city reservoir between 1 and 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As the party approached the pool they were horrified to see the body of a boy lying submerged in the water. They quickly gave the alarm and rescued the body. Drs. Kaemmerling and Young responded to the hurry call for aid and they, with Emil Kiefer, worked for half an hour with a pulmotor and trying artificial respiration, but all to no avail. Then the body was rushed to the Glendale Sanitarium and hot packs tried but the life had fled. The body was therefore taken to Pulliam & Kiefer's to await funeral arrangements.

The boy was 15 years old and the son of Henry Meck and wife, 604 N. Glendale Ave. They have one other child, a girl. Russell had eaten a hearty dinner and went almost immediately to the pool for a bath and swim. Entering the water at once after partaking liberally of food is very dangerous, doctors say, and this was undoubtedly the cause of the boy's death.

No inquest will be held.

IOWANS MEET AGAIN

MR. AND MRS. FRANK VESPER ENTERTAIN FRIENDS FROM ALGONA

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vesper of 321 East Lomita avenue entertained old friends from Iowa Tuesday evening, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brunson of Algona, Iowa, and their daughter, Miss Zada Brunson, who is a kindergarten teacher in the public schools of Duluth, Minn. Also of the company were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer, former residents of Algona, who are now living in Hollywood and who are the hosts of Mr. and Mrs. Brunson. The Vespers left Algona fourteen years ago to come to California. The Brunsons came to the coast to attend the Shriners' Convention and have since been touring the state. Mr. Brunson will return to Iowa Friday and his wife and daughter will follow a week or two later. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Naudain and their daughter Lois. The Vespers and their guests were close friends in the middle western state and greatly enjoyed the renewal of acquaintance. An evening of music and dancing was enjoyed after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess and Mrs. Naudain.

FRANCY, CASHIER

ELECTED BY GLENDALE SAVINGS BANK TO SUCCEED C. D. LUSBY

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Glendale Savings Bank held Tuesday afternoon, Harry E. Francy was elected cashier to succeed C. D. Lusby who resigned the first of August. Harry has tendered his resignation as assistant cashier of the First National Bank to take effect August 15 or sooner in order to accept his new office.

Mr. Francy has been in continuous service at the First National Bank since 1911 with the exception of eighteen months spent in the service of Uncle Sam and has seen that institution grow from a bank with resources of $300,000 in 1912, to $1,500,000 today. During his long service in this bank Harry has met many people and his genial manner has made friends of all with whom he has had dealings. Of course he will be glad to meet all of his friends at the Glendale Savings Bank.

With his long experience in banking methods and a manner that wins and holds friends (Harry is sure to be successful in his new position. He will take up his work in the Glendale Savings Bank about August 15 or as soon as he can be relieved from his present duties.

LOYAL TO SOUTHLAND

W. B. Kirk recently received a letter from J. E. Bassett, who formerly lived in Glendale but now is in New York City, stating that his wife had been taunted of late by New York friends with exaggerated statements about California earthquakes, but Mrs. Bassett replied that if half of Los Angeles was shaken down she would rather live in the other half than in New York.

SPANISH COLONIAL

C. E. BABCOCK AND MOTHER SOON TO OCCUPY ATTRACTIVE NEW HOME

A mingling of the Spanish and Colonial is seen in an attractive house at 719 South Maryland avenue, which is to be the home of C. E. Babcock and his mother who are at present living next door, at 725. Originality is seen in the style of the porch which extends about half way across the front of the house joining the projection of the front bedroom. A heavy boxed effect is seen at the three corners upon which are pillars 18 inches in diameter joining the stucco overhang which extends around the side over the windows of the living room. The three side windows which are to be of plate glass, extend nearly the entire width of the living room under which are built-in features of book-shelves, desk, drawers, etc. There are five rooms with bath and porches each one having some feature for which the designer can give a reason. The bathtub is enclosed for sprays.

The outside finish will be chestnut brown with stucco work in cream, trimmed with white. The red roof of crushed brick further adds to the effect.

Mr. Babcock has drawn plans for another house nearby which will also have five rooms, but larger than the first mentioned one. It will be all of stucco work of a darker cream, with massive pillars on front porch, and French doors, featuring several rooms.

The owner, Mr. Babcock, is a Bostonian, coming to Glendale with his mother the first of the year, after a survey of nearby cities. He is a designer and builder and has had a good deal of experience as engineer of construction work.

AUTOISTS STILL TURN BETWEEN CROSSINGS

Judge Lowe is considerably astonished and much concerned over the inability or the non-inclination of the motoring public to understand the necessity of obeying the provision of the traffic ordinance prohibiting the turning around of autos between crossings in the congested districts of the city. Despite the fact that 125 violators of the law have appeared before him and been admonished, all in one month, the number of violations does not decrease, for there were more than 20 the first two days of this week. Heavy fines will be assessed, the judge declares, if the practice does not cease.

C. W. B. M. AUXILIARY

MEMBERS ENJOY PICNIC SUPPER AND PROGRAM AT LEARNED'S

Members of the C. W. B. M. Auxiliary of Central Christian Church to the number of 44 enjoyed a picnic supper prepared at the home of E. H. Learned and wife, Sixth St. and Vine Ave., last evening, going out in autos and on the P. E. The supper was served in the open under the big sycamore tree and was most enjoyable.

After the eating was over a program of music, addresses and a paper by Miss Gertrude Forrest on "Re-Emphasis on Trained Leadership" was listened to. The singing was by a ladies' quartette. Greeting addresses were made by National Worker Mrs. G. M. Anderson, formerly of California, but now stationed in Indianapolis; Edgar Lloyd Smith of Glendale, State Sunday School Superintendent; Mrs. Alice Jackson of Glendale, State Secretary of Mission Work in California.

FOREIGN TREES

Zealanders use this plant in-
of flax.

The coral tree from Brazil next attention by its bright red shaped flowers which nestle in axils of the glossy leaves. This is found in the tropics of both spheres, growing to a height
fifty feet.

There is one for the housewife—
bottle brush, a native of north-hemisphere regions and sometimes the sub-tropics. "Dutch rush"
used for scouring are the stems of the variety. The flowers are of bright colors.

Next is "Mrs. Roeding," a brand
oleander of a salmon-pink color,
like of which are seldom seen.
guide tells us of another new variety which he obtained in Fresno,
being a deep red.

The ginkgo tree sounds like slang is perfectly proper, being the Chinese name for maiden-hair tree.
a native of China and Japan,
was introduced into England in 1862.

It is one of the most beautiful trees under cultivation. Its leaves are like a pyramidal head attains a height of fifty to eighty feet.

The fruit is of a greenish-
yellow color and the size of a cherry.
Chinese use it a good deal in cooking, but Americans would call it odd and taste disagreeable.

Another Japanese tree growing to a height of a hundred feet high as its middle name suggests, from Nippon. There are many other trees, all very handsome, some of which live a thousand years, it is said.

A shrub not generally seen is carolina grandiflora, which has white flowers, and red fruit resembling a raisin. An odd feature of the tree is a sort of double thorn
which divides and redivides.

Another Diogenes in a tub is the odendron monstera deliciosa, a serious tree or shrub with large leaves serrated and perforated and bearing a delicious cone-shaped fruit resembling the pineapple as to taste and flavor. On this tree are present five fruit cones in process of opening. This is also a native of the sub-tropics.

When there are native spires with blossoms; hazel-nut and filbert trees; the yellow guava; the hawthorne; the jujube tree with olive-green, sub-acid fruit; pineappletree; and last but not least the banana splendor, a small evergreen brought from Brazil, bearing beautiful blue blossoms. This is thought to be the only one of its kind in California.

All the above can be raised in the state by any one who loves trees, flowers and plants enough to give them the care they must have. Some of them, of course, need covering during times of frost. Asked about mango, which the U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletins state is extensively cultivated in Florida where the fruit is considered a delicacy, so delicious is the fruit, Mr. Kelley said attempts to grow the trees here have been unsuccessful, as far as he has learned.

It is only in the extreme south-part of Florida, he says, that its growth is successful and there it has become an important article of commerce.

THINGS THAT "CAN'T BE DONE"

The world has always been in need of men to do the things that could not be done. The need is more pressing today than ever.

When Columbus started out to sail around the globe men laughed at him and told him it could not be done. Columbus did not succeed in the attempt, it is true, but he proved that the thing could be done.

When Samuel Morse started to transmit messages between distant points by means of a tiny wire, people said it could not be done but Morse soon proved differently. Fifty years later Marconi showed people how to talk through the air without even the use of wires.

Edison achieved two things that most people declared to be impossible when he used electric current to produce light and when he reproduced the sound of the human voice.
Motion pictures are another of the "impossibles."

There are other achievements, seemingly impossible today, awaiting accomplishment. They stand as a challenge to the ingenuity of mankind. The need of the world is for men who can do these things.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Most of us today can sympathize
with the old pagan, Pilate, who asked
"What is truth?"

Perhaps there were no professional propagandists in Pilate's time, as there are today, but he had heard many conflicting statements as to a matter that interested him and he was sorely perplexed.

Professional propagandists in recent months have befuddled the public as to a good many things of more or less vital concern. Every newspaper office is flooded with literature, both pro and con, on a variety of subjects.

What, for instance, is the truth as to conditions in Russia? We get conflicting reports, both evidently written by highly trained writers.

The same thing is true as to Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo Slavia.
Coming closer home, there is Mexico. How many men in this country know the actual truth as to conditions in the republic just to the south of us?

Conflicting interests, contending forces, are at work in all these countries, and each side gives out its own version of affairs. We do not know which is true, and perhaps we have not been given the truth at all.

Is it any wonder that as we finish
reading the morning or evening paper we ask, like Pilate of old, "What is truth?"

VILLA TO ESCAPE PUNISHMENT

In granting full amnesty to the notorious bandit, Villa, de la Huerta does not increase confidence in the new Mexican government on this side of the Rio Grande. Whatever the political and domestic expediency
that prompted the head of the federal government to accept the "surrender" of the outlaw chief on his own terms, he showed insulting disregard of the rights of the United States.

The terms on which Villa surrendered, or, rather, agreed to end his bandit career, make it impossible for this country to demand his extradition to stand trial for the slaying of 19 Americans at Columbus, N. M., in 1916. Villa is under indictment in New Mexico for murder as a sequel to the raid by his outlaw band. Under an extradition agreement between the United States and Mexico either country may demand the extradition of persons charged with murder.

But this is important—the same agreement provides that granting of such a request is optional with either country. And since Huerta has granted the bandit leader the right to "live the life of a private citizen unmolested," it is hardly likely that his extradition, if requested by Washington, will be granted.

This latest development in Mexican affairs is interesting, but it certainly will not increase sentiment in this country for recognition of the new regime.

PROFITEERING

For a long time after money came into use as a medium of exchange, and the old system of barter and trade was abandoned, there was no law to regulate interest charges on loans of money. The man who had money to loan could charge any rate of interest that he could get, and usually did. The rates often ranged from 50 to 500 per cent.

But finally the abuses became so bad that the people regulated the matter by law. The money lenders protested, but to no avail. The law was passed, and now nobody would think of repealing it.

If we can regulate the rates of profit on money loans, why can we not regulate the profit on selling goods, or transporting or manufacturing?

This is a question that many men are now asking. We now regulate by law railroad and express rates
and postal rates, rates for gas, electricity, water and street car fares.
How much farther can we go along this line with safety?

It is a big question. An answer is not to be given lightly, one way or the other. Intelligent consideration of the question is in order, that a

What's become of the prejudice against automobiles because they frightened the horses

NOW cars are everywhere. The horses
have gotten used to them—
and so has everybody else.
Think of it! This year the American people will spend nearly a billion dollars on tires alone.

Tires are one of the biggest items on the car owner's bills.

Hardly a Saturday, when you motorists drop in to
"tune up" for a Sunday trip,
that one or more of you doesn't tell us something of value to our business. Sooner or later it comes back to you in Service.

Service is what the car
owners of this community
are looking for nowadays.

And especially the small
car owners, who put service

first in figuring their motoring expenditures.

Just because a man has a moderate - price car is no reason why he should get any less service out of his tires.

We believe that the man with the small car is entitled to just as good tire service
as the man with the big car
—and both are entitled to the best tire service they can get.

That's why we represent
U. S. Tires in this community.

And why more car owners
—large and small—are coming to us every day for U. S.

about tires. We're here to help you get the kind of tires
you want.

OUR FOOD SUPPLY

During the war the people of the United States went on short rations in order to help feed the people of Europe. We had meatless days and wheatless days, and we stinted ourselves on sugar for months. If food won the war, we did our part nobly.

The war is over—has been for some little time. We are still sending food to Europe, but we are also buying food from other countries. We are getting beef from Argentina, wheat from Australia, butter from Denmark and millions of pounds of dried and salt fish from Alaska.

The fact is that this country is no longer producing enough food for its needs. Growth of cities and towns has drained the population of the farms, which has been further accentuated by cutting off immigration since 1914.

A smaller percentage of population is engaged in farming now than ever before. Our food crops will be smaller this year than last, in all probability. And they were smaller last year than the year before. Each year we are becoming more dependent upon imports from other countries.

We will be able to get along for awhile, no doubt, unless something should happen to our shipping. But the situation is one that makes for uneasiness. From a national standpoint the condition is anything but a healthy one.

In a race for "high" honors between women's shows and skirts,
our money's on skirts.

KEEPING PRICES UP

Public sentiment against strikes and labor disturbances runs higher than usual. Indeed so vital does one state consider uninterrupted production to the nation's welfare that it recently passed a law aimed at the evil of strikes. The worker himself seems more inclined to this view than he was formerly. In Kansas, the state that has the drastic anti-strike law, the business of striking has struck a decided slump.

It is not without surprise, then, that we read the American Woolen Company, which recently announced it made 140 per cent profit last year, closes down its mills because of "cancellation of orders."

On the heels of closing of the mills, associations of clothing manufacturers and dealers announce higher prices for this fall and winter because of "shortage of woolsens." The American Woolen Company had better take another look at its books. Perhaps it has some orders it overlooked.

It is interesting to note that the American Woolen Company recently narrowly escaped prosecution by a judicial ruling that cloth is not clothing in the meaning of the Lever act. A narrow escape, but the woolen trust got away with it. Is closing down of its mills intended, among other things, namely keeping up prices, also intended as a gentle warning against further government interference?

Locked-out mill operatives can easily find work elsewhere. It is the public, not they or the owners of the mills, who will suffer. And the public ought to be given the assurance that if it is to pay more for clothing this fall and winter, it will not be because mill owners have shut down their mills.

TAKE A VACATION

Many a man who has to work for a living is debating these days whether he can afford to take a vacation this summer. He has the problem wrong end first. He should ask himself whether he can afford not to take a vacation.

Few of us work so hard that we need to rest for long periods at a time, but all of us need change occasionally. We ought to get away from our daily tasks and accustomed surroundings for a while at least and see new things, talk with different people and acquire new ideas and new viewpoints.

Monotony is the most wearing thing in the world, and the most depressing as well as the most hardening. It stunts both the body and the mind and makes both an easy prey of disease.

A vacation is a tonic, a rejuvenator and it will often prevent actual breakdown.

A vacation of a week or two weeks will cost less than an illness of the same duration. We can get pleasure and benefit from money spent on a vacation, but there is neither pleasure nor benefit in paying avoidable doctors' bills and hospital bills.

We don't care what they do to the Turk, as long as it is plenty and they quit talking about it.

The man who had announced he would take no vacation this year is casting about for excuses for changing his mind.

ANNOUNCEMENT

NEW PLAYGROUND

REPORT BY SUPERINTENDENT FOR MONTH OF JULY

One month of fun has been enjoyed and the new Magnolia playground has become a habit as well as a happy arrangement for a great many families in the neighborhood. It is work in the morning and play in the afternoon.

The twilight game hour has been one of the happiest times of the day. The factory boys and girls whose leisure time comes after supper find a keen interest in tennis, croquet and volley ball. A spirit of fair play is present at all times and this has proven a deciding factor with some parents who questioned letting their children go away from home. When it is too hot to play the more strenuous games the children gather around tables and play table games or bean bags, or play in the sand pit.

The shade of the two big pepper trees is further made cool by liberal sprinkling each day. We invite the parents to come over and bring their sewing or reading or enter into the games. Lunch tables are provided if the family or other groups want to use that privilege.

A glance at the figures for the month will tell of the popularity of the playground. The total attendance was 1226; at the July 4th celebration, 350. The daily average for the month, not including the 4th, was 34. Total taking part in different games, 3864.

The list of games and activities offers opportunity for varied choice. There are tennis, volley ball, croquet, horseshoes, baseball, handball, swings, teeters, bean bags, shuffle board, basketball, and table games, such as checkers, dominoes, old maid, snap, etc.

There have been four luncheon parties during the month, one being a watermelon party, two family suppers and one auto camping group from out of town.

R. M. MITCHELL,
Superintendent.

Mrs. Will Peart and Mrs. J. A. McKelvey of West Broadway are spending a week at Balboa.

J. D. Cole of 137 North Orange has purchased the lot on the southwest corner of Brand and Burchett where he intends to build a home.

Mrs. John McCulloch of Colorado Springs is the guest of Mrs. A. L. Burson of 375 West Broadway this week. The party expects to spend the week-end at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boatright of Tulsa, Okla., have been the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. Kaemmerling of 340 North Orange. This morning their guests motored to San Francisco.

Fred H. Hill of 121-123 S. Brand, and his wife, will start for Big Bear Friday night for a week's outing, so all who wish to have repair work done by him should get it to him before that time.

Mrs. A. H. Lapham of 415 West Broadway returned yesterday from Escondido where she visited her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Baldrige. Her mother, Mrs. W. H. Wagner, accompanied her home.

The Bentley-Schoeneman Company is putting up a $2000 building at their main yards on Los Feliz Road and S. P. tracks to house the planing mill, which is to be moved from the old yards at 200 East Broadway. The lumber in these yards is being moved out as fast as possible, as the sheds have all been sold to J. W. Fairchild, who will have them torn down as soon as they are emptied and use the lumber in them for building. New motors and other machinery will be added when the planer is installed.

Samuel Dick of 130 North Orange street was guest of honor at an elaborate luncheon the first part of this week given by Mrs. William Dick of Hollywood in celebration of his 71st birthday. Mrs. Dick was assisted during the day by her daughter, Miss Lillian Dick. The guests were Mrs. Sam Dick, Jr., of Calexico, Miss Margaret Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dick and the hostesses, Mrs. William Dick and Miss Lillian Dick. Mr. Dick was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

EMULATE NOT THE GRASSHOPPER

Pick up a grasshopper and observe his features. They are the most idiotic in nature's realm. Not only does the grasshopper's face stamp him as the imbecile of the insect world, but his life and his actions verify this judgment. The proverb, "look before you leap," is not in his store of knowledge. He leaps and trusts to luck that he will land safely.

Naturalists tell us that the hopper has not the slightest idea where his leap is going to land him, and if you will watch him you will be convinced that they are correct. His jumps take him from green grass onto barren ground, into a puddle, or even into fire. And then he will kick and struggle to get away from his plight. And when he does regain safety, he turns around and jumps back to the same place. Such behavior is, however, to be expected from a being with so small an amount of brain, proportionately, as the grasshopper

Waiting Until It Is Too Late

The man or woman who waits until obliged to practice economy is seldom able to get very far along on the road to thrift.

But if a banking connection is formed before a reversal of affairs hits you then you are nearly always able to forestall disaster and accumulate.

The most successful business men earnestly advise the forming of a banking connection, however small.

CANALS COMING BACK

The number of barges and of companies operating barges over the Erie canal is increasing. Only the other day formation of another large company to engage in canal transportation between New York City and Buffalo was announced.

This is an event of importance not only to the territory immediately affected but to the whole country, since it will tend to relieve the already greatly overburdened rail lines.

The new steel barges will each have the carrying capacity of 22 freight cars. Two will equal a freight train of moderate length. Four will carry the load of the heaviest freight trains.

The Erie canal, when first opened in 1825, would carry barges of not over 75 tons capacity; now the limit is 1000 tons. The canal has been deepened to 12 feet. The new barges will be towed by steam tugs from New York to Buffalo in seven days, and will come back without the tugs in five days.

Other sections of the country, notably Detroit, are engaged in movements to extend deep waterway transportation, and it is a step that promises to greatly relieve transportation congestion. More extended use of the canals means relief for the railroads and that means relief for nearly everybody and nearly every business.

enlisted and was sent by the way of Halifax to Folkstown, England. French and Pond camp and Camp Whitney were the next points reached, the latter being the largest camp in England. Arriving in Boulogne, France, he had the privilege of riding on the box-car trains and saw the ruins of Arles.

In the battle of Mons, which was fought midway between Mons and Valenciennes, he was wounded in the left hand and gassed, being then sent to the hospital where he was a well-cared for bed-patient for three months. His Christmas dinner consisted of a bowl of hot soup and milk, his condition warranting only a liquid diet.

On his release from the hospital he was sent on sick furlough to Winchester, England. His first real pleasure consisted of a ten-day sight-seeing trip to Glasgow, Scotland, which he enjoyed very much as the hills of Scotland are indescribably beautiful. Incidentally, Mr. Dallas mentioned that the Scotch girls are very pretty.

Three days were also spent in London where he says the theaters are the most beautiful he ever saw. His next stopping places were as follows: Camp Whitney in England; Camp Rhyl, North Wales; St. Johns, Canada. He received his second discharge from service at Toronto, Canada, and from there was sent to Denver, Colorado, in April, 1919. Here he remained until coming to Glendale which he pronounces a paradise on earth. Before his enlistment as a private, Mr. Dallas was musically inclined, being a trap drummer, but preferred to be at the front instead of in comparative safety with the band.

His mother and sisters are now in Glendale and his step-father is expected soon, so Mr. Dallas will have the pleasure of his relatives' companionship as well as that of friends. He speaks very appreciatively of the kind services of the American Legion and other societies who are doing all in their power to add comforts to the already pleasant lot of the boys.

The names of the other boys who are at Thornycroft are: William O. Blake from Redondo who was in the navy; Walter L. Chennick, Canada; William O. Brown, Pasadena; Klengil Smith, Marion, Ind.; Charles Polak; Mack E. Tarango, El Paso, Tex. Mrs. N. Maxwell Miller, the proprietor of Thornycroft Sanitarium, states that about twenty Red Cross nurses are expected to arrive this week.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

An open competitive examination for deputy sealer of weights and measures is to be held in Room 1007, Hall of Records, Los Angeles, on Tuesday, August 10th, at 8:30 a. m., to provide an eligible list from which appointments may be made. The salary is $165 a month the first year, then $170 and after the second year $175. The duties are to assist the Sealer of Weights and Measures in the following work: According to Act 4385, General Laws of California, 1913, to inspect, try, test, and seal or condemn, all weights, scales, measures, instruments or mechanical devices of all kinds used in the weighing and measuring of any quantity or article for distribution, purchase or sale, and to test packages as to quality and amount; to exercise the powers of peace officer in carrying out the provisions of this act; to prosecute all persons violating the same, and keep accurate records of all acts performed.

Candidates must have a working knowledge of the State and County laws relating to the Sealer of Weights and Measures. They must be painstaking and exact, with ability to meet the public in a tactful and courteous manner, and should have had technical training and experience in the handling of weights and containers.

INHERITED WEALTH

The death in Paris the other day of William K. Vanderbilt brings back to mind a newspaper statement made by him some years ago in which he said:

"My life was never destined to be quite happy. It was laid along lines which I could not foresee, almost from earliest childhood. It has left me with nothing to hope for, with nothing definite to seek or strive for. Inherited wealth is a big handicap to happiness. It is as certain death to ambition as cocaine is to morality. If a man makes money, no matter how much, he finds a certain happiness in its possession, for in the desire to increase his business he has a constant use for it. But the man who inherits it has nothing of this. The first satisfaction, and the greatest, that of building the foundation for a fortune, is denied him. He must labor, if he does labor, to add to an oversufficiency."

Vanderbilt, speaking from experience, was correct. Inherited wealth is more of a handicap than an advantage.

A wise old father once expressed it this way: "I don't care to leave my sons much money. If they are any account they will make all the money they need, and if they are not any account a fortune would only emphasize their worthlessness."

Which is might good philosophy, when you think it over.

FAMILY TREES

An old man, who had amassed a fair share of this world's goods, spent some time in collecting a history of his family. He compiled a rather large volume, and then had only eight copies of it printed, giving one to each of his seven children—four sons and three daughters—and keeping one himself.

It was a remarkable document, and a somewhat depressing one. The record showed that a great-uncle had absconded while executor of an estate, a cousin had killed a man while on a drunken spree, another cousin had eloped with a married woman, while a brother-in-law had died while under indictment for forgery. The good records of members of the family were set down along with the bad. Nothing was concealed or apologized for, and while there was more good than bad in the record as a whole it was bad enough.

His explanation was: "My children were getting foolish notions into their heads. They were beginning to think themselves better than other people, and I wanted to show them that they were wrong. I wanted to show them that a person can be only what he makes himself, and no better. Pride of ancestry is all right, in a way, but pride of personal conduct is a much better thing."

Much good might be accomplished if other men would compile their family histories and print them—for private circulation.

ISSUES, NOT MEN

Every now and then some campaign committee announces that the political fighting this year will be along the line of "issues, not men." This is all right as far as it goes, but how far does it go? Just what does it mean?

Is it best to vote for a bad man whose principles, politically speaking, coincide with your own, or for a good man whose views on certain questions are different from your own? Party regularity is a desirable thing, although it is not as strong a shibboleth as it was some years ago. Party platforms generally make good reading—for a time at least—but they are not always carried out. Maybe it is just as well that they are not.

But the old distinction between right and wrong will always hold good, and the difference between good men and bad men will be as great tomorrow or next year as it is today. The voter who casts his ballot for the best man for office will come pretty near doing the right thing. If the man who is elected is the right sort of man he will try to do right, and he will come pretty near doing right, regardless of the platform or the issues during the campaign.

And nobody thought to ask Sir Tom what he thinks about home rule for Ireland!

We have plenty of legal holidays, but why do so few of them come in the hot summer months, when we don't feel like working anyhow?

The Economy of Using Goodyear Small Car Tires

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3½ Goodyear
Double-Cure Fabric,
All-Weather Tread $2350

30 x 3½ Goodyear
Single-Cure Fabric,
Anti-Skid Tread $2150

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? 30 x 3½ size $450 in waterproof bag

THE MOVIE STRIKE

There is talk of a moving picture strike. The actors and the actresses are not demanding more money—at least they are not threatening to strike for it—but the men who actually make the pictures are involved. The threatened strike is by the camera operators and laboratory workers.

It may be surprising to most folks that anybody connected with the motion picture industry can be either underpaid or discontented. Most of the visible supply of money was supposed to be devoted to the movies, and producing the films that amuse and entertain the country's toiling masses ought to be a highly congenial occupation. The picture of a movie employee suffering from oppression of wage servitude is a novel one, even for the screen. But, after all, the mechanical process of reproducing the heroine's smile on the film, no less than the constant contemplation of custard-pie throwing episodes, may become as much of a bore to the worker as operating a loom or a nail-making machine.

Sometimes we feel we're going to have a vacation this summer if we have to strike for it; and then again we're afraid if we strike the vacation might be too long. It's a hard world, mates.
